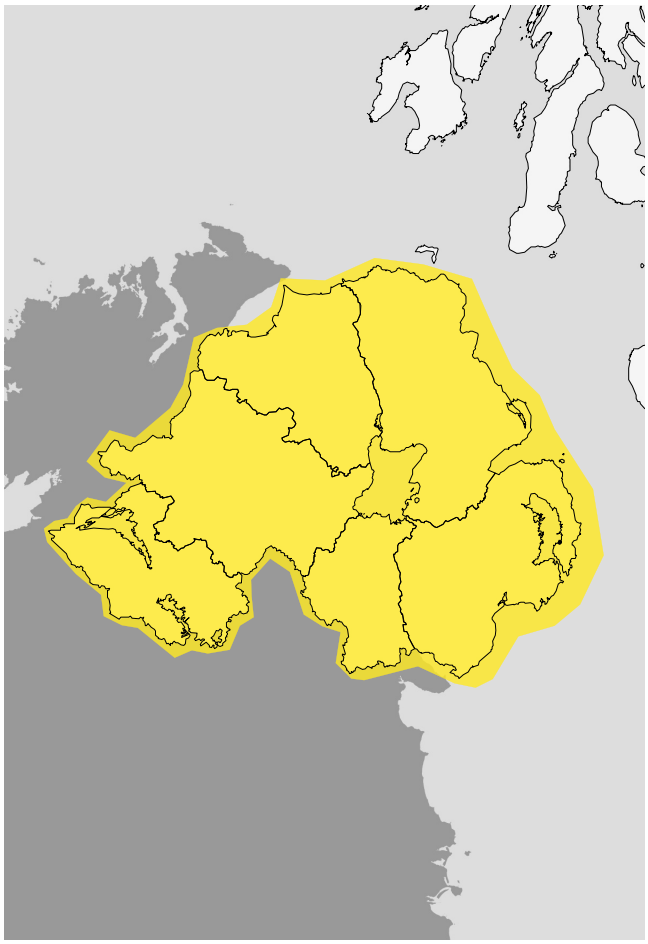
Fog

Between
15:27 Wed 27 Nov 2024 and
08:00 Thu 28 Nov 2024



Areas of fog on Wednesday evening will become more extensive overnight, resulting in difficult driving conditions.

What to expect

- Slower journey times with delays to bus and train services
- Delays to flights are likely, with the possibility of some cancellations too

Further details

Wednesday's fog is expected to expand and become fairly widespread, with visibilities in some places falling below 100m. This will make for difficult driving conditions and may also lead to disruption of public transport. With temperatures close to, and in places below freezing, icy patches in freezing fog will be an additional hazard.

What should I do?

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, leaving extra journey time, or amending plans if necessary.
